

Is there intelligent life on Earth?

We on Mars have watched the Inquiry into the so-called death of Princess Diana with considerable amusement recently. Fools! Cannot you recognise an alien abduction when you see one? Do you not understand that the CCTV footage has been tampered with and Princess Diana has been replaced with an almost perfect dead replica?

Can you not also grasp that although the surface of Mars is uninhabitable, the subterranean regions are teeming with life, and the primitive Beagle spacecraft that we shot down recently now rests in a crater on top of a large underground shopping centre?

Yours Sincerely
